An ideal blue foliage ground cover grass for Native Gardens

Themeda 'Mingo' is a blue prostrate form of Kangaroo grass with rusty red/brown semi prostrate seed heads. Flowers over summer months. 'Mingo' has an overall spread of about 600mm in diameter and stands approximately 150mm to 300mm tall. With a little care it looks stunning. With no care it looks a bit raty.

Low ground cover

NATIVE GRASSES

An informal lawn alternative

It is useful on Golf Courses or anywhere where an informal ground cover is needed. 'Mingo' needs an annual trimming of no more than 2/3 of the leaf growth. Avoid Summer or Winter trimming. 'Mingo' can even be trained as a lawn alternative. In drought times, or Summer, it benefits from a little water.
